

SP35

3" Submersible Trash Pump with Hydraulic Motor

The SP35 is a modern 3" submersible trash water pump with the impeller and body in stainless steel. The exclusive monocanal closed impeller provides high efficiency: flows up to 500 gal/min, water head up to 125 ft and the ability to pump fluids loaded with suspended solids up to two inches in size. The SP35 can pump very abrasive fluids such as "bentonite."

The pump is available on request with hydraulic motor in cast iron and ATEX Certification for pumping flammable liquids or for uses in mines or explosive atmospheres. In addition to the outstanding performance, the pump's possible applications are greatly expanded by the ability to be powered from the hydraulic circuits of gasoline, diesel or electric power packs, or from the onboard hydraulics of trucks, mini excavators, boats, or fire-fighting equipment.

ADVANTAGES

- Exclusive "closed mono canal" impeller and body in stainless steel
- Possibility to order pump in ATEX configuration with cast iron motor, performance are like standard model
- Submersible design assures zero problems of priming
- Very compact with unbeatable ratio weight/ power /size; robust, reliable, minimal maintenance needs
- Implicit safety thanks to the impossibility to cause electric shock
- The pumping chamber can be open in few seconds for inspection and cleaning
- Can pump very abrasive fluids and "bentonite"

- Non Clogging Mono-Impeller
- Stainless Steel Construction
- Can pass two inch solids
